PROCLAMATION

Brampton Tree Month

WHEREAS: Trees are a vital green infrastructure asset that provides valuable environmental, economical, societal and health services to the entire community, and helps protect against, and prepare for, climate change.

The City of Brampton has illustrated a long-standing, continued commitment and leadership role with respect to the stewardship of its urban forest and trees.

Brampton Tree Month will be an annual celebration during the month of September with tree and urban forest activities, outreach initiatives, and stewardship events to encourage residents to support and care for Brampton's trees.

Brampton Tree Month will raise awareness of the importance of trees, celebrate City and community efforts and successes towards protecting and enhancing Brampton's urban forest, build civic engagement, create healthy and resilient communities, foster environmental stewardship, and help achieve the City's target of planting one million trees in Brampton by 2040.

THEREFORE: I, Mayor Patrick Brown, on behalf of Brampton City Council, do hereby proclaim September 2023 as "Brampton Tree Month" in the City of Brampton.

Mayor Patrick Brown, City of Brampton
