PROCLAMATION

Paint Brampton Pink Week

WHEREAS: Breast cancer is the most commonly diagnosed cancer among Canadian women and it affects the lives of thousands of individuals and families across the country each year.

The Canadian Cancer Society is a national, community-based organization committed to funding game-changing cancer research, advocating for healthy public policy, and providing compassionate support programs so that no one faces cancer alone.

The Canadian Cancer Society's CIBC Run for the Cure is the largest, single-day, volunteer-led breast cancer event in Canada, which raises funds to support life-saving breast cancer research and support services.

Prior to the Canadian Cancer Society's CIBC Run for the Cure, the City of Brampton and local businesses will decorate the city pink.

Paint Brampton Pink Week is an opportunity to raise awareness, inspire action, honour survivors, and remember those we have lost, while encouraging widespread community participation in the CIBC Run for the Cure.

THEREFORE: I, Mayor Patrick Brown, on behalf of Brampton City Council, do hereby proclaim September 13-19, 2025 as “Paint Brampton Pink Week” in the City of Brampton.

Mayor Patrick Brown, City of Brampton
